

July 7, 2009

John Griffin
Fernet Energy Solutions LLC
661 Ashanti Farm Road
Gordonsville, VA 22942

Re: Active Rust Primer 662 SG

Dear John:

I have responsibility for maintaining our fuel barge in the Charleston harbor. It is constantly subject to salt water and rust corrosion. I have used many products to try to stop the rust, but none have worked nearly as well as the Active Rust Primer 662 SG. It is thinner than other primers and deeply penetrates the prepared area, filling all voids. It also seals, converts rust, and feathers better than any rust primer I have used before. It also adheres extremely well to bare metal, rust and old paint without any peeling, blistering or flaking, providing a very stable primer for our topcoat. This product is hands down the best primer I have used for protecting my barge and mitigating further rust accumulation under each application.

I highly recommend this product to others.

Sincerely,

Kurt Gray